“LAND & LIGHT – 30 YEARS OF PHOTOGRAPHING THE LANDSCAPE”

A Presentation by Adam Gibbs

Monday February 23, 2026 at 7:30pm (Pacific) ***

In this immersive presentation, Adam will share stories from three decades of exploring the world’s most breathtaking environments, from the rugged wilderness of Vancouver Island to far-flung destinations abroad. You’ll get an inside look at the creative process behind some of his most cherished images, as well as fresh work from recent travels.

Adam will dive into the art of capturing nature’s raw beauty—discussing composition, light, and the subtle techniques that transform a scene into something truly magical. Expect engaging stories from behind the lens, plenty of room for your questions, and a few insider tips to inspire your own photography. Whether you’re a seasoned photographer or just love the outdoors, this presentation promises to stir your sense of adventure and spark new ways of seeing the natural world.

Adam Gibbs has been a professional photographer since 1991, with a career that spans both fine art and commercial applications internationally. His work was prominently featured in gardening magazines by Cornwall Publishing, with thousands of images and over 200 cover photos published between 1995 and 2015. His talents have graced the pages of prestigious publications, including the BBC’s acclaimed "Planet Earth" book, as well as Nature’s Best, Fine Cooking, Fine Gardening, and Outdoor Photographer magazines.

Since 2017, Adam has successfully transitioned to running his own YouTube channel, where he shares his love of the outdoors and photography, with a focus on composition, light, and adventure. Along the way, he has earned several awards, including recognition from the Wildlife Photographer of the Year competition and the Epson Pano Awards. In 2018, Adam reached a career milestone by winning the coveted International Landscape Photographer of the Year award.
